

My Lion Adventure

By José Kirkwood

ROAR! "What was that?" I said. I couldn't see anything but It could be a lion or a bear. I was wondering around the jungle exploring. I walked and walked. I found a clear path and at the end of the path I saw a cave close by. I decided to rest there for the night.

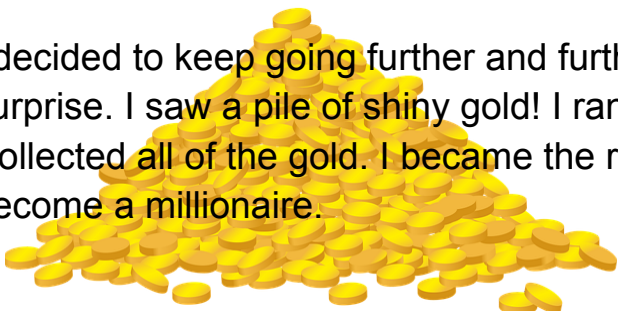

In the morning I saw four female lions walking around outside the cave. I was so scared. Suddenly I coughed and then ten lions came out from the darkness at the back of the cave. I forgot my light so I hid. The lions soon left. They were gone.

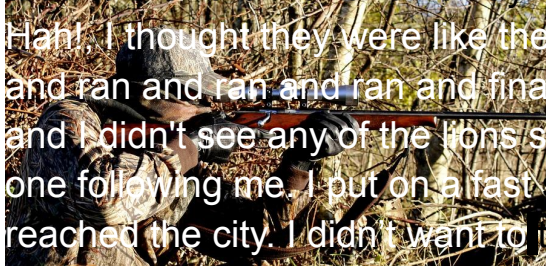

I didn't know what to do so I went back and hid behind the rock. I saw my light side but a lion came and sat beside it. I still didn't know what to do. Do I die or do I Run. I didn't run. The lion got up and left so I went out and got my light. I started to run home. I was frightened. "What would I do? Is it coming after me?" I looked. "No" So I stopped under a tree, got some of my meat out and left it there so the lion can find it and have a good feed. That will slow it down.

But when I finished I got up to start running and there they were again. They came closer to me. I said, "Here's some food for you." I didn't want them to eat me. So I pointed at the meat. They looked at the meat and ate gladly. Wow I was not frightened any more. I had just fed all of the lion's and they liked me and I felt safer. I went back to the cave and they followed me in the cave.

I decided to keep going further and further into the cave. "Wow!" what an amazing surprise. I saw a pile of shiny gold! I ran in and touched it and played with it. I Collected all of the gold. I became the richest person. I got so rich that I could become a millionaire.

Now I wished I was home. So I started to walk carrying all my gold. The lions followed me. I got hot and I was getting tired. I tried to find shade but there was no shade. After walking for hours, I saw a hunter. "Oh no!" I thought. He will shoot and kill my lion friends. So I led the lions back to the cave but they didn't want to go in. I tried to trick them and run away from them but they were fast to catch up with me.

Hah!, I thought they were like the speed of Sonic. I knew I couldn't give up so I ran and ran and ran and ran and finally reached the end of the cave. I looked around and I didn't see any of the lions so I came out again. I turned around and there was one following me. I put on a fast speed and ran as fast as a Cheetah. At long last I reached the city. I didn't want to turn around in case I would see the lions following.

After a while I looked back and there were no lions. "Yes!" I said. But I forgot all about the gold. Ah well that's OK but I hope the lions are safe from the Hunter.
