Am I eligible?

Studying towards a university qualification will be one of the most exciting challenges you will ever face. At UC we can provide you with programme options to ensure that you are successful in reaching your goals.

To give you the tools and skills you need to succeed in your studies, UC's partners offer several preparatory programmes, including English for Academic Purposes (see page 12), a Foundation Studies Certificate and University Transfer Programmes (see page 13). All preparatory programmes are taught on campus where you will have full access to the University's libraries, computer labs, language labs, health centre and sports facilities.

Gain admission to UC

To gain admission to the University, there are two main entry requirements that you must meet.

English language entry requirements

If you are going into a degree programme you must satisfy our English language entry requirements before UC can provide you with an Offer of Place. This can be done either with a satisfactory score from a recognised English language test or by successfully completing an English language programme delivered by CCEL College of English (see page 12).

Academic entry requirements

If you are applying for admission to the University on the basis of an international (non-New Zealand) qualification, you must meet UC's academic entry requirements (see pages 14–15). If you do not meet UC's academic entry requirements you may be able to achieve these by successfully completing the UC International College Foundation Studies Certificate or one of the University Transfer Programmes available (page 13).

Note that some programmes have additional entry requirements. Please make sure that you meet the additional requirements by checking with international@canterbury.ac.nz

What should I do now?

Once you have familiarised yourself with the two main entry requirements, plan your next steps for securing a place at UC by using the checklist on page 53.

You can also contact our experienced regional managers, who can guide you through this process.

English language entry requirements

International students who do not have:

- New Zealand University Entrance through NCEA, or
- an overseas entrance qualification from a country and educational system where the main language is English and the instruction for the qualification was in English, will be required to perform to a satisfactory level in an approved English language test (see table on right).

Choose an undergraduate qualification

At UC we offer a wide range of general and specialist degrees, as well as certificates and diplomas.

Courses are the building blocks of all UC qualifications. Each course has a point value which you can count towards your qualification when you have passed the course. A normal full-time load is approximately 120 points per year.

General degrees

General undergraduate degrees at UC include:

- Bachelor of Arts
- Bachelor of Commerce
- Bachelor of Science.

Why study a general degree?

- The most flexible degrees
- You can study subjects from other areas, eg, you could do a Science degree and also study English or Education
- You choose a subject to specialise in – this is called your major. You can also major in two subjects – a double major (some degrees only)
- General degrees can be started in February (Semester 1) and most can also be started in July (Semester 2).

Courses and subjects

Courses are the building blocks of qualifications. Each course has a code (eg, CHEM 111 is a course in Chemistry) and is worth a certain number of points. These points count towards your qualification when you have passed the course. The more work a course requires, the more points it is worth.

At UC all undergraduate courses are worth 15 points or multiples of 15 points. Three-year degrees require a minimum of 360 points and four-year degrees a minimum of 480 points.

Each course belongs to a larger subject area (eg, Mathematics offers courses in algebra).

Courses are grouped into levels. In your first year, you will study 100-level courses (eg, ENGL 102 is a 100-level course called Great Works). You usually have to pass certain courses at 100-level in a subject before studying at 200-level in your second year.

Bachelor of Arts – typical degree structure

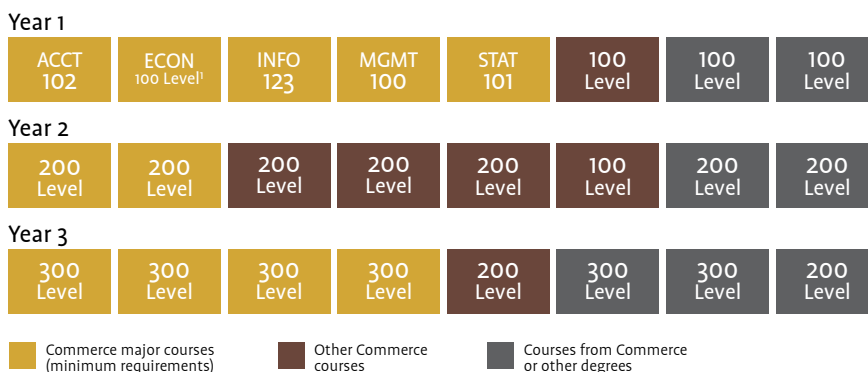

Please note: some majors have different requirements. For all major requirements and more information go to www.canterbury.ac.nz/regulations/award/ba\_regs.shtml

Each small block represents a 15-point course. However, some courses may be 30 points (or more).

This diagram is an example only – other combinations are possible.

Bachelor of Commerce – typical degree structure

For complete BCom major degree plans go to www.bsec.canterbury.ac.nz/for/undergraduate/
Each small block represents a 15-point course. However, some courses may be 30 points (or more).

Bachelor of Science – typical degree structure

Each small block represents a 15-point course. However, some courses may be 30 points (or more).

<sup>1</sup> Students should allow for more than one potential major subject. Students should check the 100-level requirements for their potential majors as some majors require more than two 100-level courses or enrolment in a complementary subject such as Mathematics. For full course requirements go to the University Regulations webpage www.canterbury.ac.nz/regulations/award/bsc\_regs.shtml

Bachelor of Engineering with Honours – typical degree structure

Year 1 – Intermediate

Year 2 – 1st Professional

Year 3 – 2nd Professional

Year 4 – 3rd Professional

 For full course requirements, please go to University Regulations webpage
www.canterbury.ac.nz/regulations/award/behons\_regs.shtml

Bachelor of Laws – typical degree structure

Year 1

Year 3

Year 4

Each small block represents a 15-point course. Large blocks represent 30 point courses.

Bachelor of Speech and Language Pathology with Honours – typical degree structure*

Year 1 – Intermediate

Year 2 – 1st Professional

Year 3 – 2nd Professional

Year 4 – 3rd Professional

<sup>2</sup> Students can choose courses from other degrees to make up 120 points. Some courses are recommended – go to the University Regulations webpage www.canterbury.ac.nz/regulations/award/bslphons\_regs.shtml

Each small block represents a 15-point course. However, some courses may be 30 points (or more).

* Subject to Universities New Zealand CUAP approval, due August 2017.

Specialist degrees

These include degrees such as:

- Bachelor of Criminal Justice
- Bachelor of Engineering with Honours
- Bachelor of Fine Arts
- Bachelor of Forestry Science
- Bachelor of Health Sciences
- Bachelor of Laws
- Bachelor of Music
- Bachelor of Product Design
- Bachelor of Social Work
- Bachelor of Speech and Language Pathology with Honours
- Bachelor of Sport Coaching
- Bachelor of Teaching and Learning (Early Childhood and Primary).

Why study a specialist degree?

- Specialist degrees prepare you for a career in a particular profession, as well as equipping you with transferable skills applicable to a range of careers
- Usually a number of courses are compulsory and your course of study is more prescribed
- Specialist degrees usually start in February (Semester 1) only
- Some specialist degrees have limited entry to the first year and require a special application. Others, while having open entry to the first year, require students to obtain a certain grade average before they can study the second year of the degree.

How much will it cost?

International students can apply for a number of scholarships, are eligible for domestic fees for PhD study, and in most cases are able to work to support their studies.

You will pay two types of fees — tuition fees and non-tuition fees (page 19). Fees must be paid in full for the year at or before enrolment.

The table opposite will give you an idea how much a full-time course of study will cost (your actual tuition fee will depend on the mix of courses you take). To find out the fees for individual courses go to www.canterbury.ac.nz/courses

You should also check the online Guide to Fees at www.canterbury.ac.nz/future-students/fees-and-funding/feesguide

All fees in this booklet are stated in New Zealand dollars.

Eligibility for domestic fees

International PhD students are eligible to pay tuition fees at the domestic rate provided that they reside in New Zealand and study under a New Zealand student visa.

Australian students admitted at any level are permitted to pay the domestic student tuition fee, provided that they reside in New Zealand.

Scholarships

There are a number of scholarships available to international students.

UC offers International First Year Scholarships* for up to 25 top-achieving international students who have gained University Entrance (or equivalent). These scholarships provide between $10,000 and $20,000 towards the fees for a full-fee paying international student's first year of study at UC.

International students who are already studying at an overseas university can apply for a UC International Mobility Inbound Study Abroad Award* valued at up to $5,000 each. These awards provide support for any overseas university student who would like to enhance their education and international experience by studying at the University of Canterbury for one or two semesters on UC's Study Abroad programme.

UC also offers scholarships for master's and doctoral study.

International PhD students are eligible to pay domestic tuition fees if they are studying and living in New Zealand. International fees will apply for international PhD students if they are studying away from NZ for more than 365 days during their PhD tenure.

† Insurance is required for all international students studying in New Zealand. If you do not want to purchase Studentsafe University insurance you must arrange approved insurance that meets the minimum requirements for a travel and medical insurance policy – see page 20 and www.canterbury.ac.nz/international/before-you-arrive-in-new-zealand/insurance

Visas and insurance

We strongly recommend that you seek advice before travelling and get your student visa before leaving your home country.

Student visa

International students who study in New Zealand for longer than three months must have a student visa. When your application for admission is approved, you will need to contact the appropriate office of Immigration New Zealand to apply for your student visa. If possible, you should try to apply for your student visa three to four months before your classes begin.

Full details of student visa requirements, financial requirements, advice on rights to employment in New Zealand while studying and reporting requirements are available from Immigration New Zealand.
www.immigration.govt.nz

If you are already in New Zealand on a student visa, and you wish to extend it, you may be able to do this through UC under the Students Online programme.
www.canterbury.ac.nz/international/before-you-arrive-in-new-zealand/visas-and-immigration

Most international students are not entitled to publicly funded health services while in New Zealand, which is why having insurance is essential. Details of entitlements to public health services are found at www.health.govt.nz

Medical and travel insurance

To enrol at UC international students (including international PhD students) must have appropriate and current medical and travel insurance while studying in New Zealand. Please check our website for available insurance options: www.canterbury.ac.nz/international/before-you-arrive-in-new-zealand/insurance

This is a legal requirement under the New Zealand Code of Practice for the Pastoral Care of International Students.
www.nzqa.govt.nz/providers-partners/education-code-of-practice

The Accident Compensation Corporation (ACC) provides accident insurance for all New Zealand citizens, residents, and temporary visitors to New Zealand, but you may still be liable for all other medical and related costs.
www.acc.co.nz

Studentsafe-University insurance

You can purchase the Studentsafe-University policy when you complete your enrolment in New Zealand. The cost of the Studentsafe-University insurance will be added to your enrolment fees.

The policy meets the standards of the New Zealand Code of Practice for the Pastoral Care of International Students.

It covers students intending to enrol at UC from the time they leave home (up to 31 days prior to enrolment). The policy covers transit stopovers, but does not cover stopovers regarded as holidays.

Pre-existing medical conditions are conditions that you have before you enrol in the plan and can extend to conditions you were aware of but did not seek treatment for. These conditions are not automatically covered by Studentsafe-University so you must apply to the insurer and receive notice of acceptance of such condition(s). You can apply for cover by completing a medical risk assessment form available from the UC website.

Dental treatment in New Zealand is expensive and is generally not covered by insurance.

‘I chose UC after developing good contact with staff before I arrived, and also because of the facilities available at Mount John in Tekapo.

Working in the field of education is a lot of fun. The best part about it is that you have the freedom to learn new things all the time, and use them in your career.’

‘I have a great team of supervisors. I enjoy being part of a community of like-minded people here in the lab. Everyone is very supportive and I am grateful to be a part of this. My time during my internship opened my mind to all the possibilities I have. Staff supported me and gave me the confidence to move to a new country at the other side of the world.’
