

Puberty Gone Wrong

Why... in the world is there hair in my armpit? I look like an orang-utan! (No offence to orang-utans by the way, I think you guys are pretty cool.) I reach over to touch it and, out of nowhere, it starts moving "AH!"... I wonder why my armpit hair is... moving? I look into the mirror and notice a weirdly large patch of goo running down my arm. "I-i-i-is that sweat.. no, it can't be? How is it even possible to produce this much sweat?!" I swipe my finger across the gooey sweat and bring it back to my face. I go to take a sniff but before I can even say anything my head hits the floor... and I pass out.
