

Lilly Bee wrap fundraising

for St Thomas Of Canterbury College – China Trip 2019

Hi we are fundraising for our sons to travel to China next year. The boys are students of St Thomas of Canterbury College in Christchurch and will be travelling with teachers to visit and immerse themselves in Chinese culture for two weeks in 2019.

We have chosen Lily Bee Wraps as they are fantastic product that will help us all reduce the amount of plastic in the world.

LilyBee Wrap is a guilt free alternative to plastic wrap. Handmade with cotton and a unique blend of beeswax, tree resin and organic coconut oil. Totally reusable. Do your bit for the environment. Keep food fresh without plastics.

They really work to lock in the freshness of your food. By applying pressure with the warmth of your hand, they seal nicely around your food or container. Great for a myriad of uses from keeping cut avocados, wrapping lunches or storing leftovers. The variations for use are similar to plastic wrap (although we would advise not to microwave).

You can order directly from the SET 1 or SET 2 designs listed below. All other options are Lucky dip. This means they will be whatever design Lily Bee select for you. Visit the website to get a feel for their range and possible lucky dip designs. Please note that due to the ongoing release of new designs and limited stocks that actual designs shipped may vary.

You have the option of ordering either sets of three or single units (lucky dip). The sets are made up of a small, medium and large sheet. As a bare minimum I suggest getting a set of three. If you are determined to use less plastic then you definitely need more. Plus think Christmas. They make excellent gifts!

To clean simply wash in cool water and detergent and hang to dry. These can be used time again.

I've had mine for over 6 months & if you avoid the temptation to wash in hot water & store in a cool place when not in use they will definitely last longer!

All Lily Bee Wraps are limited edition, if you love what you see be quick! Don't you miss out.
