

Fortunately/unfortunately

My alarm clock rings at 6:30 and I get ready to go on the bus with my family but I don't know where I'm going. My mum says it's a surprise but I thought I heard something like nasa.

Fortunately we have a good driver.

Unfortunately the bus crashed.

Fortunately we got to nasa.

Unfortunately we missed the rocket.

Fortunately there is another rocket.

Unfortunately the wait is an hour long.

Fortunately we got to the rocket.

Unfortunately we don't know how to drive a rocket.

Fortunately there is an instruction book.

Unfortunately Ryan ripped it.

Fortunately we got to the moon.

Unfortunately we weren't quite there yet.

Fortunately we can get there.

Unfortunately we forgot how to drive the rocket.

Fortunately we got to Mars.

Unfortunately we still weren't quite there yet.

Fortunately we remembered how to drive the rocket.

Unfortunately we forgot Ryan at Mars.

Fortunately we got Ryan.

Unfortunately we forgot how to drive a rocket again.

Fortunately we got to Jupiter.

Unfortunately we had to go home.

Fortunately we got home safely.

THE END.
